Culinary: For the 2024 season, Arnaud Faye, chef and a Meilleur Ouvrier de France (the designation for France's top craftsmen), has designed a new pre fixe gastronomic dining experience, directly from la Chevre d'or, his restaurant on the French Riviera, to the hotel's RIVYERA restaurant sharing his love for the Côte d'Azur through his Mediterranean menu and relaxed European vibe. The new Signature Menu highlights include local fish with fennel and bottarga, lobster with melon and shiso, octopus confit with olive oil, beetroot and rose, Vitello tonnato and a frosted coconut dessert. Sustainability: For the third consecutive year, The Hotel Christopher is proud to be awarded the Green Globe Certification for its continued commitment to nature-first tourism and low-impact practices. It also remains the only hotel in Saint-Barthélemy to have obtained certification. This year's award recognizes the new efforts of the hotel for its entirely self-sufficient water management system thanks to its own water treatment and desalination plant making it the only hotel on the island to have a drinking water station. In a partnership with AQUAchiara, the French leader in transforming unpurified water into microfiltered quality drinking water for more than 15 years, their water is bottled and purified for hotel guests and restaurant guests. In The Christopher's two restaurants, led by French Michelin-starred chef Arnaud Faye, the completely sufficient water system allows for a sizable reduction of CO2 emissions, as well as eliminating the shipping and plastic impacts from outsourced bottled water. The innovative project, co-signed by ADEME, a French ecological transition agency, is the first of its kind on the island, and a mammoth effort by the hotel in accordance with Green Globe commitments to operate at the highest level of sustainability possible.

The island of St. Barth is located in the French West Indies and is easy to reach via Puerto Rico or St. Maarten.
